

throughout the country from the Pacific slope to the Atlantic coast, with a belt of moderately low pressure from Alberta to the lake Superior district and a shallow depression central over Texas. The Texas low is causing rain in Kansas and in the Mississippi valley as far north as St. Louis. This storm will move northeast ward during the next 36 hours and the rain area will probably extend into Wisconsin Sunday, or late tonight. The temperature change will be small.

It is slightly warmer in the lower Missouri and upper Mississippi valleys and colder in the Rocky mountain districts and north Atlantic states. The following heavy rainfalls (in inches) are reported: Oklahoma. 1.40: Shreveport. 1.00

ARMY-NAVY GAME AT PHILADELPHIA

QUAKER CITY THE SCENE OF NOTABLE EVENT

MIDDIES RULE AS FAVORITES

Last Big Battle of the Year Is Being Played This Afternoon on Franklin Field

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 28.—Annapolis and West Point today will formally close the 1908 football season, Philadelphia being the scene of the historic society function. Judging from the interest taken in the contest and from the demand for seats, a record crowd will be in attendance.

Among the betting fraternity, the navy rules a favorite and on the season's records, the sailors undoubtedly are entitled to first consideration. This, however, does not mean the soldier lads are going down to defeat. They have lost two years in succession to the sailors, and will take no chances this time. It is almost impossible to get a line on the relative strength of the two teams through the medium of comparative scores. Neither eleven has met a common opponent to permit this sort of a comparison.

Navy's Good Showing.
The navy has so far played but two of the real big teams. These were Harvard and the Carlisle Indians. The Harvard game resulted in a tie score at 6 to 6, though Harvard should have lost the game by a score of 6 to 0, only a fumble and a long run of sixty yards enabling the crimson to escape a defeat. One week later the navy lined up against the Indians and lost, 16 to 6. It should be noted here that the red men scored all of their sixteen points with field goals, but did not once cross the navy's line. The navy, on the other hand, scored a well earned touchdown against Carlisle, which means that the middies have a powerful attack.

Army Ties Princeton.
The West Point team has shown its strength in two big games. Against Yale the soldiers could not score, but they held the Elis to a single touchdown. The soldiers' work in this game compared quite favorably with that of the navy against Harvard. The next important struggle on the part of the army was the Princeton game, which resulted in a 0 to 0 score. In this contest the offense of West Point seemed to be poorer than it was against Yale, but its defense was of a high quality. The thing that should cause the West Point coaches to have misgivings is the fact that several of the smaller colleges have been able to score on the soldier team. And only last week Washington and Jefferson played the army a 6 to 6 tie.

Past Performances.
In comparing the two teams man for man, the navy looks to have the better of the situation. In Quarterback Lange and Capt. Northcroft the sailors are splendidly equipped. Capt. Philon, Besson and Stearns are the best men that West Point has, but they are all overmatched by the navy eleven. Of the thirteen games played in the series between the army and navy the sailors have won seven, the soldiers five, while one has been a tie. The record follows:
1890—Navy, 24; Army, 0.
1891—Army, 32; Navy, 16.
1892—Navy, 12; Army, 4.
1893—Navy, 6; Army, 4.
1894—Army, 17; Navy, 5.
1895—Navy, 11; Army, 7.
1896—Army, 11; Navy, 5.
1897—Army, 22; Navy, 8.
1902—Army, 40; Navy, 5.
1903—Army, 11; Navy, 5.
1904—Army, 6; Navy, 6.
1905—Army, 10; Navy, 0.
1906—Navy, 10; Army, 0.
1907—Navy, 6; Army, 0.

MANAGER CARR FINDS SECOND MARQUARD

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 28.—Do you think you will miss Rube Marquard next summer? Not on your life. The one and only Rube will be in gay Gotham, but Manager Carr has dug up another "phenom" in the same patch where Rube came from. He is just like Marquard, only a little bigger, and Carr says he is some better than Rube was when he was rescued from Cleveland. The newcomer's name is Janicki. His first name is Peter, and they will call him Pete for short. The dimensions are as follows: Height, 6 feet 8 inches; weight, a little less than 200; motion, left handed; age, 19 years. He is going to get a good trial, and will not be farmed unless he disappoints the expectations of the club.

PAPKE AND KETCHEL WILL CLASH AGAIN

FORMER CHAMPION WANTS AN-OTHER CHANCE

MUST MEET KELLY FIRST

Thunderbolt Not Discouraged at Defeat but Would Like to Try Michigan Lad Again

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 28.—Stanley Ketchel and Billy Papke are going to fight again for the middle-weight championship. The battle probably will be decided within thirty days. Ketchel agreed to this yesterday.

If it wasn't for the thorough way they wallop each other the average fight fan would arise on his hind legs and declare that Ketchel and Papke were the greatest pair of showy fighters that ever donned the five-ounce gloves. The way they alternate their victories would completely crab the confidence at any boxing bug on earth if it wasn't for the thumpings they hand forth. As things go it is quite evident that any meeting between this pair will always go to the credit of the one who lands the first punch, and that they might see-saw indefinitely.

Papke to Box Kelly
Papke is matched now to box Hugo Kelly of Chicago at Los Angeles in the ring of the Jeffries Athletic club, Dec. 15. He will keep his contract with the Italian, and then he will prepare at once to take on his conqueror once more.

Both fighters were around town this afternoon, neither seeming to be a bit the worse for their desperate encounter of yesterday.

Papke is not at all disheartened. He believes he can reverse the result in the next attempt and thinks but for a miscalculation on his part in the eleventh round Thanksgiving he could have got up in time and stayed out the twenty rounds and thus saved himself the onus of a knock-out.

He admits being badly dazed, but claims that he could have clinched and weathered out the round.

Ketchel Agrees to Box
Ketchel said that he would be glad to give Papke another chance right away, but smilingly told Papke's friends that it would be useless for him to try it again.

BILLIARD SCORES

Yesterday's billiard scores in the La Crosse club tournament are as follows:

Allerton 65, won 65; Kurtenacker 65, got 45.
Brayton 70, won 70; Wing 65, got 38.
Frye 55, won 55; Van Auker 55, got 50.
Hart 85, won 85; Lees 95, got 81.
Allerton 65, won 65; Gund 75, got 57.
Torrance 65, won 65; Allerton 65, got 61.
Edwards 105, won 105; Dow 140, got 92.
Dow 140, won 140; Burns 90, got 88.

Utermoehl 115, won 115; Ott 130, got 112.
A. Holbeck 35, won 35; Spence 40, got 28.
Schweitzer 270, won 270; Keyes 90, got 53.
Weiland 40, won 40; Spence 40, got 32.
Platz 55, won 55; Eddy 60, got 48.
Burns 90, won 90; Att 130, got 90.
Fox 60, won 60; Frye 55, got 25.

Winter blasts, causing pneumonia, pleurisy and consumption will soon be here. Cure your cough now, and strengthen your lungs with Foley's Honey and Tar. Do not risk starting the winter with weak lungs, when Foley's Honey and Tar will cure the most obstinate coughs and colds, and prevent serious results. O. T. Erhart.

PROF. ELIOT WILL TALK IN LA CROSSE

Professor Benet announces that a meeting of the Teachers' and Parents' association will be held on the evening of Dec. 11. Professor Eliot of Madison will deliver an address at this time. Mr. Eliot is one of the chief men of the University. During his life he held other positions of educational importance such as principal of the Madison High school and superintendent of the city school. The public is invited to attend this lecture and as Professor Eliot is very well versed in the educational problems his address should be of interest to everybody.

SERMON ON HEALTH AND HAPPINESS

The second address or sermon on "Health and Happiness" will include a consideration of some of the fundamental principles of science and religion in the treatment of disease.

This movement has nothing to do with the organization of a new cult and it should be understood that its work is in sympathy with the physician and looks for the assistance of medical science, that it is the expression of religion anxious to use all scientific knowledge of human nature for the health and happiness of mankind. Its message reveals the fact that wonderful discoveries have been made in recent years that will doubtless change methods of treatment for certain classes of patients and physicians must stand in the future on a higher basis than the old materialistic ideas of former years. The history of the Emmanuel movement shows that wonderful results can be obtained when the clergyman and the doctor co-operate and advance together along the lines of scientific progress, and yet without discounting in the least the old faith or the established principles of medical science.

It is the firm conviction of the rector of Christ church that no one can give due consideration to these principles without finding results that will make for both health and happiness.

"For fifteen years I have watched the working of Bucklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil, ulcer or burn to which it was applied. It has saved us many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy, of East Wilton, Maine, 25c at O. T. Erhart's drug store.

THROWS A "FIT" GETS HIS WHISKEY

The police arrested a man this morning who had a fit in front of one of the downtown saloons. After he was sufficiently revived he was taken to the central station, where he was recognized by Chief Weber as being an old offender. He gave his name as Joe Meyer. The police say his game is to throw a fit in front of a saloon and have his partner rush in and have the bartender give him a drink of whiskey to revive him. They would alternate at this trick making the different saloons about the city, finally accumulating a fair sized "jag."

GUS RUHLIN PUTS BEER DRIVER OUT

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Gus Ruhlin, once known to fame as the Akron Giant, a heavyweight, was arraigned on a summons today before Magistrate Hyland, Williamsburg. The summons was obtained by Henry Bluchfiend, who weighs 240 pounds and drives a brewery wagon. Yesterday afternoon Bluchfiend delivered beer to the Ruhlin establishment. The ex-heavyweight objected to Bluchfiend's methods in putting in the beer. The driver resorted in picturesque phrases and wound up by inviting Ruhlin to step from behind the bar.

Ruhlin accepted with alacrity and put Bluchfiend away with one punch. When he came to, Bluchfiend was angry and went to court.

cheaper here than anywhere else,
notwithstanding the higher wages paid per man. Not a ton of steel is produced in the world at as small an outlay for labor as in our own country.

"Mr. Carnegie advocates a tariff for revenue only—startling doctrine for a steel king to urge. He goes on to state that in his opinion 'the revision of the tariff could today safely and advantageously be made a radical one upon the lines suggested,
but if congress, in deference to the timid manufacturer, 'whom we all ways have with us,' thinks it prudent not to disturb his dreams unduly, and only halves the present duties upon some article, and abolishes them entirely upon others, always provided it guards zealously
the present duties on luxuries of the rich for revenues, the writer will be thankful and philosophical as usual,
because one step in the right direction will have been taken, and he knows the final step must come before long—the sooner the better."

"Oil, like steel, he says, needs no protection from the products of other lands.

"Mr. Carnegie is the largest individual holder of securities in the steel trust. If there were any danger that a reduction in the tariff to a revenue basis would seriously injure that great corporation, Mr. Carnegie would not for a moment advocate
it, because one result would be to make him a comparatively poor man.
He is too canny to urge his own financial ruin.

"His article makes the position of the champions or reducing the tariff
on iron and steel absolutely impregnable. It takes the ground right from under the feet of the standpatters."

And following is the way it strikes
The Milwaukee Sentinel, next to The Free Press the most pronounced public utility organ in Milwaukee:

"Mr. Carnegie explodes another of his cannon cracker preachments, this time a manifesto leaning toward free trade.

"Here, then, we have the not altogether convincing spectacle of a gentleman rich enough to say what he likes, who preaches international disarmament while drawing income from the manufacture of armor plate
and gun forgings, and who preaches
free trade from the vantage ground of vast personal prosperity derived from a protection created and promoted industry."

That is the way a lot of papers are for tariff revision. They thought it was fine when Mr. Carnegie came out in support of Mr. Taft, because they felt that Taft and Carnegie were of a stripe, and that neither really wanted tariff revision "downward."
Carnegie was not mentioned as a firer of "cannon crackers" then.
What a joke if these men, Taft and Carnegie, should prove to be "of a stripe" and both seriously in favor of real tariff revision for the benefit of the consumer! It would indeed be hard on papers like The Sentinel,
which talk progressive legislation
during campaigns and scoff at it in the "open season."

Mr. Van Cleave has stripped the masquerade off the ways and means committee, and left it exposed in all its deceit. Presumably acting in accordance with the republican platform for a genuine tariff revision, if not far enough, at least in the right direction, it is making a fine standpat case for presentation to congress. Mr. Van Cleave's warning is timely. The facts were more than suspected, but the authority of his expression adds weight to the assertions of those who have maintained that the committee was not playing fair with the people.

"THE PATRIOT."

"The Patriot" is the name selected by Senator Robert M. La Follette for his political magazine, according to latest report. It is an appropriate name, and the identity of its publisher is a sufficient guarantee that it will live up to the pretensions of its title.

The announcement is made also that a number of able writers who have contributed to the literature of the progressive movement will be employed on its staff. This is good news. It is a satisfactory indication that a broad, progressive public journal will be given to the people.
It will be guessed that the publication will be fearless, and that it will
"call a spade a spade" and a reactionary senator a reactionary senator, with his official record including the "ays and nays" attached.

"The Patriot" will be needed in Wisconsin. It will bring the gospel of good government to the homes of good citizens. It will furnish a criterion by which to judge men and measures. It will prevent the further masquerading of standpat newspapers as progressives, the while they knife every progressive man who dares take a stand for the right. The Tribune welcomes the coming of "The Patriot" as an essential factor in the fight for civic righteousness and against graft in high places. It has a great national field, hitherto unfilled, to cover, and it is awaiting it a great work right
in this state, where under cover of La Folletteism the old "gang" is working eagerly for the recapture of party control.

VIEWS OF TARIFF REVISION.

A republican newspaper that supported Mr. Taft and has advocated tariff reduction "along reasonable lines," has the following to say about Andrew Carnegie's Century Magazine article in which he declares steel is no longer eligible to protection under the "infant industry" policy, and should carry only a fair
"tariff for revenue:"

"From the manufacturer's point of view nobody knows more about the tariff on iron and steel than Andrew Carnegie does. Nobody is more selfishly interested in giving this great industry all the protection it needs than he is. And yet, in an article written for the Century Magazine, he declares that today the manufacturers of iron and steel need no protection,
because steel is now produced

SPOTLIGHTS

The Story of "The Thief"

A woman of youth and beauty, but comparatively humble station, allows herself to fall in love with a brilliant man of the world whom she considers much above her. She worships him as something unattainable, and is dazed when he loves her in return,
and makes her his wife. Her love adoration, but she is haunted with the fear that she will lose his love.
She reasons that she must equal in beauty and leicacy of attire the women with whom he has been familiar, if she is to hold him. His income and her allowance do not permit competition in this respect, and in her panic of fear lest her happiness be wrecked, she recklessly contracts
great debts with milliners and dressmakers, giving little thought to the day of reckoning. But the day remorlessly approaches and exposure
threatens as husband and wife are visiting rich friends. The friend and hostess carelessly throws into a bureau drawer money sufficient to satisfy clamorous creditors. The tortured wife yields to temptation.

Then comes the first complication.
A youth, son of her husband's friend, is infatuated with her. Idle vanity makes her smile on him, but she rebukes his declaration of love and refuses to read his letters. A detective has been summoned as a guest to the house to fathom the mystery of the stolen money. The youth is seen in the boudoir from which the money has been taken. He has been there to lay his love letters beneath the pillow of the woman he loves. The detective is called on for his report and he presents a seemingly conclusive case of circumstantial evidence against the boy. He is summoned to be confronted with the evidence of his crime. The guilty woman, in panic and grasping at straws,
goes to seek him and appeals to him in the name of his love for her to save her. He consents.

After this basis is laid in the first act the author develops a remarkable scene between the guilty woman and her husband. Brooding over the sorrow that has come to his friend certain anomalies in the boy's story
come to him. Playfully ransacking his wife's chiffonier, he finds a purse with money—more money than she has any right to have. In a painful scene he forces confession of guilt of theft, and jealousy carries him to accusation of faithlessness. "I, too, have been nineteen," he cries bitterly.

The third and final act takes place
the next morning, when the youth has been summoned to hear a degree of banishment to South America, which means probable death. The guilty wife and her husband as longtime friends of the family, are requested to be present. The woman would escape the scene, but the husband grimly forces her to remain.
The boy cries out in agony against his punishment in a scene of heart breaking pathos he finally rushes
out in obedience to his father's command. Then the guilty woman confesses. The play date is Thursday, Dec. 3.

Quincy Adams Sawyer.

The success of the book, "Quincy Adams Sawyer," and the play made from it, to be seen here at the La Crosse theater on Dec. 25 and 26,
remakes all the more interesting and bookmarkable when it is known that the publication of the novel was the experiment of a young woman, Carro
M. Clark, who made $50,000 in one year out of the venture. Her royalties from the play have already reached a very handsome figure.

Miss Petticoats

Metropolitan audiences were lavish
in their praise of the play, "Miss Petticoats," when it was seen in the large cities. This play made its debut at the Boston theater, and reviewing the opening night at that house, the Boston Herald says:

"The Boston theater, with 'Miss Petticoats,' was one of the centers of local interest in matters dramatic last evening, when a large and enthusiastic audience paid its respects
in general to this literary production.
The play scored a success, and applause, spontaneous and hearty, followed every important act, and burst forth into an ovation at the close of the fourth act."

"Miss Petticoats," with Miss Florence Farr in the title role, comes to the La Crosse theater at La Crosse
on Nov. 29.

At the Bijou.

Outside of the opening Monday night performance at the Bijou, amateur night on Friday is the feature night of the week from a point of attendance. The crowd is always a jolly one. It does not make any difference whether an act is good or bad it is enjoyed just the same. Merit is duly appreciated while inane, stupid things are given the horsaelaugh. Last night's bill of extras was not surcharged with any brilliant things but was pleasing nevertheless.

Young Early was announced as a coming Mansfield. The juvenile bud sang "I'm Fraid to Come Home in de Dark" in a shrill piping treble
that brought him a good round hand.
Sally Siokum attempted to capture the audience in a drone-like recitation. Sally evidently suffered the impression that she was reciting her lesson at school. Her monotone made the spectators squirm uneasily in their seats. The crowd tolerantly stood the inquisition and handed her
a hand of relief at her exit.

Flavia Wilt afflicted the audience with a somewhat similar number to the preceding one, the only difference being that she sang her's.
She sang "Twinkling, Twinkling Litle Stars," and the sour colored spotlights made her blink and wilt.
The feature of Flavia's offering was its featureless inanity. Under proper cultivation her latent talent
could be brought to bear fruit.
Last night she was a lemon.

MY OWN FAMILY USE PE-RU-NA.

"I cannot too highly recommend your preparation for the relief of catarrhal troubles in their various forms. Some members of my own family have used it with most gratifying results. When other remedies failed, Peruna proved most efficacious and I cheerfully certify to its curative excellence."

Mr. Fred L. Hebard, for nine years a leading photographer of Kansas City, Mo., located at the northeast corner of 12th and Grand Aves., cheerfully gives the following testimony: "It is a proven fact that Peruna will cure catarrh and la grippe, and as a tonic it has no equal.
Druggists have tried to make me take something else 'just as good,' but Peruna is good enough for me."

For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to na* tablets, which represent the solid medicinal ingredients of Peruna.

is billed as a charming soubrette.
The three Kobers will present a symtastic novelty that is admirable in splendid muscular development;
the Don and Mae Gordon Trio cyclists, two ladies and one gentleman,
a sensational and novelty act full of original comedy, featuring Mae Gordon's original insane moving postural; and Douglas and Douglas,
the clown and the girl, in tumbling
humor or comedy on the bounce.

CLEVER WIFE

Know How to Keep Peace in Family.

It is quite significant, the number of persons who get well of alarming heart trouble when they let up on coffee and use Postum as the beverage at meals.

There is nothing surprising about it however, because the harmful alkaloid in coffee—caffeine—is not present in Postum, which is made of clean, hard wheat.

"Two years ago I was having so much trouble with my heart," writes
a lady in Washington, "that at times
I felt quite alarmed. My husband took me to a specialist he has my heart examined."

"The doctor said he could find no organic trouble but said my heart was irritable from some food I had been accustomed to eat, and asked me to try and remember what disagreed with me."

"I remembered that coffee always soured on my stomach and caused me trouble from palpitation of the heart. So I stopped coffee and began to use Postum. I have had no further trouble since."

"A neighbor of ours, an old man,
was so irritable from drinking coffee that his wife wanted him to drink Postum. This made him very angry, but his wife secured some Postum and made it carefully according to directions."

"He drank the Postum and did not know the difference, and is still using it to his lasting benefit. He tells his wife that the coffee is better than it used to be, so smiles with him and keeps peace in the family by serving Postum instead of coffee."

"There's a Reason."

Why the Vizier Wept.

In the records of Bombases the sage it is written that Pasha Ibra-ham of Saseman was the ugliest mortal
in the east.

So ugly was he that his own reflection in the mirror gave him fits.
Therefore he gave orders that never should a looking-glass be exposed within the walls of his palace. For a while all went well.

But, alas! one day Ibrahim Pasha
and Nampoor, his grand vizier,
strolled forth through the rooms of state, and, lo and behold, before them was a costly mirror in a golden frame, brought by a French merchant from foreign parts for barter.
And the pasha took one glance.
It was enough.
He saw his own face and forth-
with knelt down and wept.
And Nampoor, his grand vizier,
also lifted up his voice, weeping grievously.

And they continued thus in tears
for the space of four minutes.
Meanwhile the mirror was removed.

Then Ibrahim Pasha dried his tears; but Nampoor, his grand viz-ier, wept on.

Then spoke Pasha Ibrahim unto Nampoor, his grand vizier:
"By the beard of the prophet! this is more than sympathy. After all, it is my face and not thine. I have ceased my tears. Whyfore dost thou continue?"

But answered Nampoor, the vizier:
"Truly, thou speakest wisdom. It is indeed thy face. But thou didst behold it but for a moment, whilst I, thy slave, see it all the time."
And he wept afresh.

Courtship in Ireland.

An Irish boy marries when he has a rid house, and an Irish girl just when she pleases. Sometimes she so pleases while yet her years are few,
at other times she's contented to wait upon wisdom. In the latter case, of course, she makes a wise choice;
but in the former almost always a lucky one—for Luck is the guardian angel of the Irish.

"You're too young to marry yet,
Mary," the mother said, when Mary pleaded that she should grant Lawrence O'Mahoney a particular boon.

"If you only have patience, mother, I'll cure myself of that fault," was Mary's reply.

"And she's never been used to work, Laurence," the mother said to the suitor, discouragingly.

"If you only have patience, ma'ah,"
was Laurence's reply to this, "I'll cure her of that fault." And he did, too.—Lippincott's.

Not Very Useful.

A man who stuttered badly went to a specialist and after ten difficult lessons learned to say quite distinctly, "Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers." His friends congratulated him upon his splendid achievement.

"Yes," said the man doubtfully,
"but it's s-s-such a d-deucedly d-difficult re-mark to w-work into an ordin-ary c-conversation, ye know."

A Matter of Business

A story told by the late Ira D.
Sankey on himself, and published in the Boston Herald in 1894, has been revived since the evangelist's death.
One day in Geneva he entered a music box shop and asked to see some music boxes. The salesman graciously showed him a number,
but none was what he wanted.

"Have you none that play sacred music?" he asked.

"Why," answered the salesman,
"we have some kind that play a kind of half way sacred music."

"What?" inquired Mr. Sankey.

"Oh, these Moody and Sanky hymns; I can't imagine what the people see in them, but we sell thousands of the boxes that play them.
We have enormous orders for these boxes," continued the salesman,
from every part of Europe," and then
he added apologetically, "it's a business of business, you know, with us."

A Puzzle in Spelling

According to a Tennessee
section of that state, a man well versed in law, but entirely self-educated, who had to contend with the principles of orthography all his life,
in early life he had lived in Knoxville, and for a long time he insisted on spelling the name Knoxville.

Finally his friends educated him up to the point of adding the K; so thoroughly, in fact, was the lesson learned that when a few years afterwards, he removed to Nashville, nothing could prevent him from spelling it Knashville.

Then, some time later, the judge
moved again, this time to Murfreesboro. On the day that he began to write his first letter from his place
he scratched his head in perplexity,
and finally exclaimed:
"I give it up. How on earth can they spell the name of this place with a 'K'?" —Philadelphia Ledger.

Thanksgiving is a good thing, but thanks-giving is better.

THE TURN OF
THE TIDE

By Horace Anniesley Vachell

[Copyrighted, 1908.]

"I thought you were a flesh-and-blood man—a tryer. There isn't anybody else, is there?"

Hugo roared too; the men confronted each other. Burgess's eyes were sparkling again, but his face retained its expression of spirituality, as if he had put from him, not perhaps without a fierce struggle, all desires other than those connected with his political ambitions.

"There's nobody else," he answered vehemently. "Do you think that I've time for philandering. And it's once bit twice shy with me, I can assure you. I'm going to leave women alone, and stick to my job for a few years or so. I've put Joy from me."

"You have, indeed," said Hugo,
taking him literally, "if you leave
the best thing in the world out of your life. I tell you that your change is better than it ever was."

"And I'll tell you something," replied Burgess, hotly. "While you live I shall not ask the woman who loved you to be my wife. She might take me, yes, if I pestered her, take me out of that queer mixture of pity and affection which seems to pass
for the right thing with some girls,
but I want something warmer than that. I want what you call the best thing in the world, not the second best. Now you have it in a nutshell."

A minute later the men had parted.

Hugo went back to his flat, and stared for some time at a new purchase, a small marble bust of Clytie, astonishingly like Joy, if one could conceive Joy with her hair parted in the middle and serenely
at rest. He had the feeling that Joy might have acquired this adorable expression of repose, had not that inspector at Eastleigh interposed a strong arm between him and the Avonmouth express.

Presently, he took the bust into his bedroom, and placed it amongst the things that he intended to take aboard.

Within a week he was ready to start, having been slightly delayed by his solicitors, who had been told that his absence might be prolonged indefinitely. Also, they had suggested the propriety of his making a will. This, however, had not been a very tedious affair. Hugo left five and twenty thousand pounds to Cynthia, a few trifling legacies to friends, an annuity to the faithful Pixton, and then appointed his brother Edward sole residuary legatee.

He motored from London to Easthampton, reaching his destination about six in the evening. The Saint Malo boat, the Luna, was sailing at midnight. Hugo told his chauffeur to take the car on board and put his suit-case into the cabin already booked. Then he dined alone at the Station Hotel. After dinner, while drinking a cup of coffee, he picked up a local paper. One of the first headlines that met his eye
was:

"Funeral of the Rev. George Vennable."

Hugo threw down the paper with a groan. Joy, forlorn and desolate, seemed to fill the big dreary room.
Hurriedly, he read a short obituary
notice, in which mention was made of the Boletus Vennabiles, but not a word about Joy. Many Mottisfords had attended the funeral, Hugo
could hear their condolences rasping Joy's ears; their endless platitudes, their well-meaning inanities and ineptitudes. He hoped to find Esme Burgess's name amongst this crowd of cousins and kinsmen. Burgess would say and do the rare right thing. No mention was made of the young fellow, and then Hugo remembered suddenly that on this particular date he had delivered a brilliant speech at Manchester. Hugo read the speech and the comments upon it
the morning after it was delivered.

THE COMPLETE NEWS OF THE NORTH SIDE TODAY

Nervousness Completely Cured

Mrs. Roan of Rolling Fork, Miss., Tells of the Wonderful Restoration to Health of Her Husband and Herself—Mr. Roan Had Consumption and Mrs. Roan Nervousness and Constipation.

MRS. T. C. ROAN.

Mrs. T. C. Roan was a chronic sufferer from constipation and nervousness for over 10 years. She says she tried everything that she could think of and was treated by several doctors, but nothing seemed to relieve or help her until at last she employed Dr. Shivers, of Greenville, Miss., who prescribed Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, to be taken regularly four times a day—dessertspoonful in a glass of milk—and a few bottles made a complete cure.

Mrs. Roan writes that her health is better than it has been for years, and she heartily recommends Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as the greatest family medicine and tonic stimulant, as it has cured her.

She also states that her husband, who had consumption, was completely cured after taking one and a half dozen bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Any doctor who has ever treated lung trouble and tuberculosis or any one who has ever had a touch of it can realize what a wonderful thing this was; for a case to be cured with one and a half dozen bottles of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, taken as ordered by a doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Roan are anxious to have their statement published broadcast, so that others who are suffering as they have may read it and be benefited, and they will be only too glad to answer any letters of inquiry they may receive in regard to their cure.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system, is a promoter of health and longevity, makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in large sealed bottles only—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00. Write Consulting Physician, Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for a free illustrated medical booklet and free advice.

STOCK CARS OFF; SIXTY HOGS DEAD

Eastbound freight train on the Milwaukee road was wrecked at noon and three double-deck stock cars thrown into the ditch and several other cars derailed by the spreading of the rails of the track just west of the Freeburg, near Caledonia, Minn. Sixty hogs were killed outright when the cars rolled over and many others were injured, entailing a loss of over $1,000 to the railroad company for the stock killed while the damage to the cars will be several thousand dollars.

OLD SHORT STOP VISIT CITY AGAIN

Jake Johnson, a former north side merchant, and at one time the star shortstop for the old "Morris & Co." baseball team, is visiting friends on the north side. Mr. Johnson has not been in La Crosse for a number of years and North La Crosse is a strange place to him. He is running a barber shop at Independence, Wis., and has been there for a number of years.

When arriving in La Crosse he was surprised to see all the sawmills had vanished and it seemed like a different place, he said.

RELATED FREAK ELECTION BET

The election bet between Henry Knebes and Carl Swanson of Davenport was paid here Thanksgiving day. The bet was that if Mr. Taft was elected Swanson would have to be harnessed and pull Knebes to Fourth and Main streets, and if Bryan was elected Knebes would play horse. As Taft was elected, Mr. Swanson was the horse. The procession started from corner Caledonia and St. Paul.

JUDGE BRINDLEY REFUSES TO CONSIDER SENTENCE

LAUGHS AT STRONG CHARGE

Judge Brindley Has to Lean Over His Desk to See the Diminutive Defendant

Because he defaced a newly painted wagon belonging to John A. Higgins, little 11-year-old mill Guanti, was haled before Judge Brindley this morning.

"Where's the defendant in this case?" said county Judge John Brindley, after perusing the complaint. "Why isn't he here?"

"Here he is," announced one of the court attendants, showing out a boy so small that the judge had to lean over his desk to see him.

"Well, he don't look like a 'willing, wanton and malicious' criminal," was the judge's comment. "Send for the district attorney to look at him. I guess he don't know who the offender is."

"It's a strange thing," said Judge Brindley later, "when I saw that complaint I thought it was some boy 16 or 17 years of age who was maliciously destroying property, and here it is nothing but a mere child who probably carved his 'initials' on the wagon. The worst I'll do is to reprimand him."

A FEAST FOR THE WINTER OF 1908-9

Y. M. C. A. POPULAR COURSE "ALL STAR" AFFAIR

REPLETE WITH FINE OFFERING

Judge Lindsey, Dr. Smith and Ralph Gingham Are Among Its Celebrities

The Y. M. C. A. is better pleased every day with its selection of notables who make their appearance in its popular course. The first lecture takes place Friday, Dec. 18, at which time the association presents Dr. Frank G. Smith, Chicago's greatest preacher.

The "Square Deal."

Those who have once heard Dr. Smith lecture, are always eager to repeat their experience. His lecture on "An Interpretation of the Square Deal" will be one long to be remembered by those so fortunate as to be within his hearing when he appears in La Crosse for the second time, Dec. 18, to open this splendid course. We are to be congratulated on securing Dr. Smith, as his dates are all sold and his lecture work limited.

Lots of Fun.

Ralph Gingham, the humorist, comes to La Crosse Jan. 15, after an absence of some nine years, not to lecture, but rather to give us an evening of song, music and story. "An Intellectual Diversion inducing pleasure and delight, provoking mirth, merriment and laughter," Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage has said: "Bless Gingham and all his apostolic college of humorists. He makes me laugh and is my benefactor," while Senator Robert Taylor (Fiddling Bob) of Tennessee declares: "I consider my friend, Ralph Gingham, to be the best all round entertainer on the American platform."

Two Good Numbers.

The Honolulu Students and Euphonium Glee club, Jan. 27 and Feb. 18, respectively, are fine features of the course, while "last but not least" comes Judge Ben B. Lindsey on March 17.

The Great Ben Lindsey.

During the four years that Judge Lindsey has been on the bench of the Denver county court, his work among delinquent juveniles has made him a national figure. The whole world is enquiring from this successful man of 35, his methods and administrative system of the juvenile court. His recent re-election to the juvenile judgeship on the independent ticket is illustrative of his standing with the people of Denver. Judge Lindsey's visit to La Crosse and his lecture on the "Misfortunes of Mickey" are timely and the message he leaves with the people will see its results.

FLEET HELPLESS FOR WANT OF COLLIERIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Rear Admiral Cowles' report to the navy department declares the cruise of the fleet shows the need of more colliers. He says had there been foreign complications, or a combination effected between foreign ship owners, the fleet might have had to remain helpless in some foreign port.

To supply coal by the colliers of the navy as they are inadequate, and the bureau being unable to obtain American ships at a reasonable price, it was necessary to obtain foreign vessels.

The report says the development of wireless telegraphy will warrant the establishment of high powered long distance stations, and a bureau should be authorized to equip and establish such a station in Washington and others eventually on the Pacific coast and Hawaii, Guam, Samoa and the Philippines.

After all, there isn't a great deal of difference between will power and won't power.

Mrs. Charles Pettriot 1306 Kane street is recovering from a slight attack of appendicitis.

ADVISE TO THE COOK

Oyster Talks

If you want your oyster stews to be good, you must first be sure that your oysters are good. Always use SEALSHIPT OYSTERS and then you can be sure of their quality. All others are so full of stale water and foul "embalming" powders that they are apt to make the milk curdle.

Sealshipt Oysters have come from the oyster beds in a porcelain, enamel-lined case, as clean and as wholesome as any dish in your kitchen. They are sealed as soon as shucked and ice is packed around them—not in them.

SEALSHIPT OYSTERS, cooked in any way, retain the delicious flavor of those just opened. They have the true salt-water tang. Served raw, it is impossible to tell that they have not been taken from the shell within an hour. Demand SEALSHIPT OYSTERS, if you want to be sure that you are serving pure food and not "doped" stuff.

PLAYWRIGHT A SUICIDE

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Using a pillow to muffle the report of a revolver, Mrs. Eleanor Merron Cowper, a talented playwright and actress, shot herself in the right temple today in an apartment at the St. Regis hotel. The explosion of the cartridge was not heard, but Mrs. Cowper was rendered unconscious and is slowly dying.

Before making the attempt at self-destruction Mrs. Cowper had written a number of letters, one to her lawyer, another to the coroner, a third to an undertaker, and a fourth to John Hood, a friend. In the letters she apprised these four persons of her intention to commit suicide.

The biographical sketch stated that Mrs. Cowper was born in England and that she came to this country at the age of 3 months. Her maiden name was Eleanor Merron. Her stage career began in Boston in a production called "Louth." Mrs. Cowper gives a list of the various productions she appeared in.

Mrs. Cowper wrote four plays which were produced on Broadway. They were "Dairy Farm," "In Love," "A Broadway Favorite," and "A Last Rehearsal."

Practically her only home life, she often said, was when she lived on the farm of James H. Wallick, at Middletown, N. Y. Mr. Wallick, who was 66 years old, collaborated with her in a number of the plays she wrote.

Last April Mr. Wallick committed suicide, and his tragic death seemed to have made a deep impression on Mrs. Cowper.

Our roughest experiences often arise from our smoothest tricks. One is too old to live when he cannot remember being young.

FANCY SKATER AT PARK ROLLER RINK

Miss Bertha Doud Mack, by long odds the finest attraction in the way of a fancy skater which has ever been secured in this city will be at the Park Roller Rink next Monday and Tuesday, December 1st and 2nd. She is known as the Anna Held of the roller skating world, and during her performance reproduces some of Anna Held's dances on skates. She has attracted wide attention and very handsomely costumed holds the attention of her crowds during her very artistic performances.

The New York Journal has the following to say of Miss Mack:

"To style Bertha Mack a Tetraxinni of the skates is no exaggeration for like Tetraxinni she is a past mistress of her art. Unlike the great singers, however, Miss Mack's art resides in her pedal extremities. Her costume was a most attractive creation and her work throughout was most charmingly refined. Miss Mack's program was original and delightfully free from the usual work of the ordinary performer. She is without doubt a danseuse on roller skates of extraordinary ability."

TO DISREGARD BLOCKADE

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 28.—Haiti's "paper" blockade of the ports of Aquin and Jeremie, which the government admits its inability to make effective by force of arms, will not be recognized by the state department. This is in accord with the traditional policy of the American government. Notice to this effect has been sent to American Minister Furman at Port au Prince, who advised that he had been notified that the ports declared blockaded also had been declared closed to commerce. Acquiescence in this, the minister said, would seriously affect American firms.

Le Conte is Alive
PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Nov. 27.—Gen. Le Conte, who was reported a few days ago to have been killed at Jeremie by the revolutionists arrived here today. He got away from Jeremie in a rowboat with four officers and two sailors, and after being at sea for three days without provisions, finally succeeded in reaching land at Petit Goave.

AN APPLE EQUATOR

If the 1908 apple crop should be made into pies and these pies laid in rows around the world they would form thirty-nine belts, each 5,000 Miles long.

The estimated crop of apples for 1908 is 62,500,000 bushels, according to reports received by Henry J. Neely, secretary of the national apple show at Spokane.

The magnitude of these figures is not appreciable unless it is put in some tangible comparison. For instance, if these apples were made into pies and placed side by side in a straight line there would be almost 975,000 miles of pies, which would form thirty-nine belts around the world. The total weight of this string of pies is estimated at 9,210,000,000 pounds, but this would indurate 6,125,000,000 pounds of flour, lard and other ingredients used in the pies. It would require 154,168 cars to transport the pies from the ovens to the consumer.

The returns show that while droughts, excessive rains, or pests wrought havoc in many districts in the middle western, eastern and several southern states, the entire crop is fully as large as in 1907, and it is better distributed. Prices also are higher than last year. However, the domestic supply is smaller than at any time since 1895, for the reason that the demand of the export trade is heavier and increasing yearly.

Reports from a majority of the growers indicate that the condition of summer and fall apples is the best, but that in numerous districts the winter varieties are not up to the standard. This, it is stated, is true in Maryland, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana and Arkansas, while Massachusetts will harvest less than a 50 per cent crop. Connecticut, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont report as much fruit as in 1907, but the crop in Maine will be smaller than it was last year. However, the quality is fair in most of the districts.

TWENTIETH CENTURY TELEPHONE GROWTH

Since the beginning of the twentieth century, more than seventy thousand telephones have been added to those previously connected with the system of the Wisconsin Telephone Company. This is an average growth of more than 10,000 a year, or nearly a thousand a month, and the increase keeps up month in and month out. Each thousand added, of course, makes the system of additional value to its patrons.

In 1900, the Wisconsin Telephone Company had in use 20,000 telephones in a population of two million. To-day there are on its own lines and those of its connecting companies, four and one-half times as many telephones in a population of about two and three-quarters millions. These figures show how the chief telephone system of the Badger State is growing towards the point when every family and every place of business in city and country will be "on the wire."

More than that, as part of the Bell system, the lines of the Wisconsin Company are included in a network which covers the country.

RUSSIAN REFUGEE PROVES AN HEROIC WITNESS

RIGBY HAS ARMED GUARD

Attorney For Russia Protected After Sensation in Court and Threatening Letter

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—A dozen guards stationed at the federal building today at the hearing of the Budovitz extradition when the case began. Several men have been detailed to protect Attorney Rigby, counsel for the Russian government, who yesterday received an unsigned letter threatening assassination unless he dropped the case against Budovitz.

As soon as the hearing began Rigby renewed his efforts to force Martin Juror to divulge the names of the members of the central revolutionary committee of Russia, but without success. Rigby appealed to Commissioner Foote to compel the witness to divulge the names. Foote declined to do so stating that he respected the attitude of the witness in protecting his companions. The commissioner's room was crowded with Russian refugees, who cheered loudly at Foote's ruling.

The fight for this information began late yesterday, when Attorney Rigby demanded that Juror tell the names of the members of the central revolutionary committee.

The significant question was followed by a moment of intense silence, in which time almost stood still for many in the audience.

Among these were men and women with relatives in Russia whose fate they believed hung on Juror's answer—relatives who were members of the committee and the disclosure of whose identity meant for them, the listeners were convinced, Siberia or the executioner.

At last Juror replied, and every one present leaned forward to catch his words. They were spoken through an interpreter, and their meaning was caught by the witness' companions before it was clear to the others in the room.

"Lead me to the gallows," Juror declared in Lettish, "and I will not betray those men, my comrades in the fight for liberty. I will not tell the names of any of them. It is against my conscience."

Cheers from men in the audience and the sudden weeping of Lettish women in the reaction from the strain told others present what the witness had replied before the interpreter had rendered his words into English.

ARMY BEATS NAVY BY SCORE 76 TO 4

end. Dalton pushed through for narrow first down. Clay made four yards through center on a double pass and Richardson four through left tackle. Richardson was pushed over for a first down on the Army's twelve yard line. Lange kicked the Navy's goal from the twelve yard line.

For the few remaining minutes of the half the teams indulged in a punting duel in which neither seemed to have much advantage. Score: First half, Army 6, Navy 4.

Battle Is Fierce.

There was no change in the lineup. Northcroft kicked off to Hyatt, who came back ten yards to the Army's twenty-five yard line. Dean failed to gain. Dean punted to Dalton who fumbled, but recovered the ball on the Navy's 45 yard line. Clay failed to gain around Stearns; Dalton punted to Hyatt who returned five yards before being nailed by Northcroft on the Army's 35 yard line. Dean made eight yards around the right end then punted over Lange's head, who recovered the ball on the Navy's 35 yard line.

No Advantage Gained.

Grebbe made ten yards around the end but the army was penalized fifteen yards for holding and it was the Army's ball on the Navy's fifty-two yard line. Chamberlain gained five yards through center. Grebbe punted to Lange who ran out of bounds on the Navy's ten yard line. Dalton punted to Hyatt who was tackled on the Navy's forty-two yard line. Hyatt made three yards in an end run. Chamberlain added four more through right tackle.

Chamberlain Hurt.

Dalton punted to Dean and was downed on the Navy's 35 yard line. Hyatt made a long forward pass which misplayed and it was the Navy's ball on its own 15 yard line. Dalton punted to Dean on the Navy's 30 yard line. Chamberlain tried twice to gain through the line but failed. Grebbe punted and it was the Navy's ball on its own 15 yard line. Clay tried the right end but was nailed by Chamberlain, who was hurt, and time was taken out. After a few minutes he went back to the game, and was lustily cheered by the Army rooters, who admired the plucky game the big star put up. The ball searowed while the team tried line plunges but was unable to make telling gains. The ball was on the Army's 7 yard line when the game ended. Score: Army 6, Navy 4.

Many Cases Pronounced "Hopeless" by Three to Twenty Physicians Have Been Cured

Afflicted readers will never have a better opportunity to test such highly successful treatments for Heart Disease, Stomach Troubles, and Dropsy, especially when complicated with Headache, Dizziness, Neuralgia, Weak Stomach, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Prostration, Rheumatism, etc., which weaken the heart.

Dr. Miles certainly has the largest practice in treating these diseases of any physician in the United States. He has an able corps of associate physicians and investigators who assist him in his immense practice. His patients are in every state in the Union. His Dispensary has treated over 200,000 patients in the last eight years. He cordially invites the afflicted to write him. Describe your disease.

Jas. Adams, 616 Winona St., Chicago, says: "As a specialist in diseases of the heart, Dr. Miles stands at the head of his profession. His Special Treatment cured me of heart disease of 15 years' standing after several reputable physicians of this city failed." Mrs. Edward Alkey, Forest Hill, Pa., writes: "Before taking your treatment I thought I must die. It has done wonders for me." Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Snow, Mayfield, Ky., both cured in one month. Mr. A. G. Miller, Deadwood, S. D., could not lie down. Cured by Special Treatment. Gained 25 pounds. Many wonderful cures from your state sent upon request.

Dr. Miles' seven different Heart Treatments are the result of twenty-eight years of laborious investigation and extensive experience. They are eminently scientific and three times as successful as the usual treatment. Do not fail to write for his free Heart Book, Examination Chart and $2.50 Free Treatment, specially prescribed for your case. Address, Dr. Franklin Miles, Dept. H., 705 to 715 Main Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

HAYTIAN PRESIDENT'S BITTERNESS FOSTERS TROUBLE

REBELS WANT GEN. FIRMIN

Southern Insurgent General Pledges Support to Him and Urges His Acceptance

PORT AU PRINCE, Nov. 28.

President Nord Alexis may be deposed or compelled to resign by a special session of the Haytian national assembly. Leading members declare the revolutionary trouble now general throughout the island is due to the tenacity of the president who never forgave any of those who opposed him politically. They declare a neutral government necessary to bring about peace, and are considering demanding a special session of the assembly.

Gen. Simon, who commands the rebels in the south, has announced that he favors the elevation of Gen. Firmin to the presidency. He has sent word to Firmin pledging loyalty and urging him to at once place himself at the head of the revolutionists in the field.

Gen. Gyrique, commanding the operations against Simon, has sent an urgent appeal to the capital for reinforcements. He declares the rebels in the Les Cayas district outnumber his forces two to one, and are well equipped. Gen. Laconte, whose death at the hands of the rebels was erroneously reported, has been directed by President Alexis to take the field with Gyrique.

THE LOCAL "WHITE PLAGUE" PROGRAM

THINGS FRAMING FOR SUCCESSFUL CRUSADE HERE

SORORITIES TO AID MOVE

Greek Letter Societies Take Part in Campaign Against Tuberculosis

Dr. Ed Evans today ordered from the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association the first consignment of Red Cross stamps to be used in the "white plague" crusade from now until Christmas. Bryant & Sisson will be distributors of the stamps, and it is planned to have them on sale in every store in La Crosse, and to attempt to have one affixed to every letter sent out by La Crosse people.

Interest has already been created in the work, and several large institutions have volunteered to help the movement. The Doerflinger store has offered the services of its advertising expert, Mr. H. C. Whittier, for the publicity end of the program. The public schools, through President Luening and Supt. Bird, have become interested, and it is hoped that all civic bodies and perhaps the city itself may take part.

One interesting feature that may be promoted is to ask the pastors and priests in all the churches of the city to devote a sermon to encouragement of the enterprise. It is planned to have the sermons delivered at the same date and hour, and the effect is expected to be powerful.

Co-Eds Take Part

Milwaukee members of one of the leading sororities in Wisconsin, Chi Tap Omega, are furthering the Red Cross stamp by promising to dispose of at least 16,000 stamps at one cent each. The sororities' members throughout the state will assist in the work, and other Green letter societies are being urged to take it up.

One young society woman of Milwaukee made it a real day of Thanksgiving for the association yesterday by promising to dispose of at least 2,500 of the attractive little holiday greetings.

These two pledges were welcome to the association, for the members have long found that it will be no easy matter to sell the 2,000,000 stamps by January 1. It is imperative that everybody get into the fight and insist in the commendable work by buying at least one stamp at the small price of one cent each, and selling at least one to a friend. Unless there is a united effort, the aim of the campaign will fail, and the association feels that Wisconsin should not allow a stigma to be placed on its fair name by failing to respond to this mighty call to wipe out the great white plague.

Milwaukee Headquarters

The headquarters of the campaign are at room 411 Goldsmith building, Milwaukee, Stanley A. Douglas, manager, to whom all applications for stamps should be addressed. Every request will receive prompt attention.

BRASCH SHOCKED INTO ETERNITY

AUBURN, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Haggard but nerve to face the final ordeal fearlessly, William S. Brasch, wife murderer, walked to the electric chair today, sat motionless while the apparatus was arranged and straps tightened, and within a minute, at 6:10 o'clock, was hurled into eternity. Brasch entered the death chamber accompanied by a chaplain. While the chaplain read the scripture and ritual, the guards strapped Brasch in the chair, fitted the metal cap over his head and as he finished a current of 1,800 volts was switched on. Only one contact was needed.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—William E. Curtis, journalist and globe trotter, wires the Record-Herald from New York as follows:

"Those who are in the confidence of the members of the finance committee of the senate and the ways and means committee of the house, have received assurances that if an important change is made in the existing tariff it will be by the addition of another column of duties after the French and German plan. This will give a maximum and a minimum to be applied according to circumstances, and the present rates will be adopted as the minimum. The maximum rates will be from 10 to 25

RUTH BRYAN LEAVITE SEEKS A DIVORCE

WOULD LEAVE BOHEMIAN HUSBAND FOR GOOD

MR. BRYAN TO THE RESCUE

Commoner Sends Agent to France to Purchase His Daughter's Freedom

LINCOLN, Neb. Nov. 27.—An emissary of William J. Bryan now is on his way to France—he may be there by this time—for the purpose of seeing Mr. Bryan's son-in-law in regard to the divorce suit about to be brought by Ruth Bryan Leavitt. The object, it is said, is to agree upon a settlement.

Mrs. William Horner Leavitt, who is still a girl in experience and years, has established a residence in Colorado for the purpose, it is understood, of bringing a divorce suit under the liberal laws of that state. It is not merely paper residence. Mrs. Leavitt spends probably two-thirds of her time in the state, the remainder being spent with her parents at Lincoln, Neb.

End of Noted "Romance"

The divorce suit which she is about to bring marks the end of the most interesting "romances" of modern American life. A "romance" in this sense meaning a marriage where the girl defies the wishes of her parents. Ruth Bryan was a self-willed, beautiful, brilliant and foolish girl of 17. An artist named Leavitt came to Lincoln to paint her father's portrait. He was twice her age, but good looking, clever, and with a slap-dash way about him that fascinated the imagination of the school girl and she announced her determination to marry him.

Mr. Bryan warned his daughter against the marriage and did all he could to prevent it. So did Mrs. Bryan, but Ruth was too self-willed to permit interference. She had to wait for her 18th birthday, because her father and mother had legal control of her up to that time, but on that birthday she was married.

Mother Absent at Wedding

Mrs. Bryan absented herself from the ceremony. Mr. Bryan attended the wedding, though every guest marked on his face the grief it cost him. Then ill starved married life began. Leavitt had no money, but defect the Bryans might have remedied but for the ineradicable effects of his temperament. He had the curse of the "Bohemian" idea. He dragged his sweet young wife through the Denver hash houses when he could as well have dined her at good hotels.

At last Mrs. Leavitt's eyes were opened and she left him. A year ago W. J. Bryan found that his two grandchildren, Bryan and Ruth, were living in squalor in Denver. He went there and rescued them and their mother. The outcome was the Colorado residence and suit for divorce.

JOSEPH RUTH IS AFTER NEW TRIAL

The circuit court opens Monday for a brief session, and there will not be many cases brought up, as the most of them will be taken up at the January term.

Motion will be made for a new trial of Joseph Ruth, the defaulting bank cashier of the Arcadia bank, who was convicted of altering the books of the Trempealeau county bank. The motion for a new trial will be made on the grounds that there was insufficient evidence to convict.

The case of Whitehall vs. the Wisconsin Power company of Portage under the mill and dam acts will be brought up Dec. 4, and a number of Milwaukee and Madison attorneys will appear in the case.

The case of the stockholders vs. the Mexican Plantation company in regard to bonds issued by the company, will be brought up Monday.

THE WILD WIDOW

The Wild Widow is the most delightful person we have met in a long time. She carries the reader along on the wave of her abounding, intrepid energy, from start to finish, making it impossible to part company with her until the last page. The author handles a most delicate situation with consummate skill, giving a setting to a scene of crucial importance that is absolutely idyllic. She sinks a plummet to the very depths of human impulse and motive with fearless courage and irresistible logic; but it finds clear waters at the bottom. The Wild Widow does not hesitate to employ drastic measures to bring happiness to two yearning hearts, and keep them from sinking into dangerous quicksands; and when the situation becomes imperilled does not hesitate to vindicate and redeem it even at the jeopardy of her own safety and welfare. It is a book to read and read again; it is daring, original, fearless; but it leaves a sweet taste in the mouth.

"From the first page to the last 'The Wild Widow' sparkles and ripples and scintillates. It contains all a modern novel of the lighter type is required to contain, yet there are many pages full of a deep earnest conviction which reveals the latent strength of the writer's pen. It is safe to predict popularity for 'The Wild Widow.'—London Sketcher.

"The Lady who provides the title secures a comfortable income by a daring ruse, which is unfolded by the author with a good deal of skill. The book is noteworthy for the bold way in which a fascinating young woman's emotions and thoughts are examined and expressed."

"There are many genuine surprises in this fresh and well written novel, and altogether it is an ingenious and fascinating piece of work."—Morning Leader.

"The Wild Widow" has just been published by the Empire Book Co., 68 Murray Street, New York. It is sent postpaid, bound in fine cloth, for $1.50, and can be had wherever new books are sold.

Three Dangerous Crooks Are Made Prisoners After a Hot Fight

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 28.—An important capture, in the persons of three yeggmen, was made by Night Captain Charles Johnson and Officers Webb and Collins of the local police department. The prisoners refuse to talk.

The yeggmen became involved in a dispute with a hackman, and this attracted the attention of the police, who believe they have sufficient evidence to send all three prisoners to the Sioux Falls penitentiary for long terms. Two of the prisoners were captured only after a desperate hand-to-hand fight with Night Captain Johnson and Officer Webb, as one of the two succeeded in drawing a forty-four caliber revolver, and Night Captain Johnson was compelled to beat him into submission after disarming him.

The third yeggman was captured by Officer Collins just after one of his partners had shot at and narrowly escaped hitting Charles Anderson and Bert Clopp, the bullet passing between them, and the shot being fired at so close a range that the powder scorched their faces.

In the pockets of the prisoners were found quantities of nitroglycerin, several dynamite caps with fuses attached, steel drills and other articles which go to make up an expert cracksmen's outfit.

MARSHALLTOWN HAS STARTED GAS WAR

MARSHALLTOWN, Iowa, Nov. 28.—An ordinance, which cuts the price of gas 35 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, and further reduces it to $1 in the year 1911, was presented and placed on its first reading at the meeting of the city council. This is the entering wedge of the fight against the Marshalltown Light, Power and Railway company, which was started months ago by Mayor O. L. Ingledue, and which finally, after much maneuvering, has been brought before the city council.

ROBBERY SUSPECTS ARE UNDER ARREST

BARNESVILLE, Minn., Nov. 28.—Two men giving their names as Frank Wolf and Joseph Velthaus were arrested two miles south of town by Chief Forsythe after a spirited chase of a mile across the prairies and after two shots had been fired by the officer.

The supposition is that they are connected with the Patterson robbery, which occurred here a short time ago, and also recent box car robberies.

They were taken to the county seat tonight.

ENDS HIS LIFE IN FELON'S CELL

DEADWOOD, S. D., Nov. 28.—Two desperate attempts at self-destruction a man who gave the name of Lee and said he was from Coleman, a town near Sioux Falls, cut his throat with a pocket knife and then tearing a piece of iron from his cell in the city jail tied his handkerchief around his neck with a turn and choked to death.

Lee was about thirty years old and nothing is known of him here. He had been put in jail for drunkenness.

Newbro's Herpicide

More men and women have gotten positive results from the use of NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE than from all other hair remedies combined.

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ. It eradicates dandruff, stops falling hair and permits a natural hair development by destroying the tiny vegetable growth (a germ or microbe) that causes hair destruction.

Nature constantly struggles to supply life and vigor to the hair, but the dandruff germ saps this vitality and strangles the life out of the hair.

I can conscientiously endorse it for doing all you claim, and it gives me great pleasure to recommend it."

Would Have Killed.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Nov. 28.—A bullet of caliber fired at close range through the window narrowly escaped piercing the head of Mrs. Emma Lund as she sat in the front room of her home in this city last evening. Mrs. Lund says that she has enemies but had not thought that they would resort to such measures, and there is a division of opinion with the police as to whether it was a case of attempted murder or a stray shot. The latter view appears to the police untenable since the shot came from too close range to be accidental.

TRANSPORT DIXIE OVERDUE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28.—Alarm is felt at the war department over the fact that the army transport Dixie, en route from Seattle to Manila with a cargo of 200 horses and 250 mules, is six days overdue.

It is feared that Dixie was caught in the typhoon which disabled the hospital ship Relief near the Philippine islands. Adj. Gen. Ainsworth sent a cablegram to Manila requesting that a vessel be sent out from that port to locate the Dixie. The Dixie should have arrived at Manila about Nov. 21.

LINGERING COLD.

Withstood Other Treatment But Quickly Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Last winter I caught a very severe cold which lingered for weeks," says J. Urquhart, of Zephyr, Ontario. "My cough was very dry and harsh. The local dealer recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and guaranteed it, so I gave it a trial. On small bottle of it cured me. I believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best I have ever used." This is one of the most staple medicines in use. Thousands have testified to its excellence. It not only cures a cold quickly and effectively, but counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. It is equally valuable for children and may be given to them with implicit confidence. It always cures and is pleasant to take. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no opium or other harmful drug.

WHEN IS AN OATH NOT AN OATH? WOT!

COLORADO JUDGE MAKES WASHINGTON TROUBLE

UNIQUE DECISION BOTHERS

Opinion Says False Swearing on Departmental Affidavit is Not Perjury

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 27.—When is an oath not an oath?

This is the question that the supreme court of the United States has before it for decision. Upon that decision, much will depend so far as various departments of the government are concerned. Especially, is the matter of interest for the interior department.

If certain contentions in the case in question are correct, then a person does not commit perjury in the sense that he is liable to punishment therefor if he swears all around a departmental regulation, providing his affidavit is not specifically required by statute. He may be responsible to his conscience and to a higher power but Uncle Sam has no hold over him.

The case, or rather series of cases involving the question of what constitutes perjury is that of F. W. Keitel, et al., and is brought to the supreme court on petition for writ of error from the district court for the district of Colorado, Judge Robert E. Lewis presiding. About a year ago, Judge Lewis quashed a number of indictments, that of Keitel being one of them, obtained by the department of justice on the charge of violating the coal land laws in Colorado. It was charged extensive frauds had been committed and the government had been defrauded out of large and highly valuable tracts of coal land, through a system of making false and fraudulent entries on coal lands by parties who in turn conveyed the lands to Keitel and others. In pursuit of the alleged scheme to beat the government, various affidavits were made that the land taken up was non-mineral, that is, that it was of less value than it was actually.

Now, it so happens that the coal land laws do not specifically prescribe affidavits and declarations under oath in the securing of title to lands entered but the general land office made regulations requiring affidavits. Judge Lewis held it was not a crime to make a false affidavit under such regulations. According to this view, a man can perjure himself only when an affidavit or declaration under oath is definitely required by act of congress. It is not in the province of the president and the heads of departments, as Judge Lewis sees it, to prescribe regulations that will make it a criminal offense in a citizen to do or not do a thing, where the statute under which the regulations are issued does not specifically say that neglect to do the thing prescribed is criminal.

The decision of Judge Lewis in the Keitel case, and related cases has proven embarrassing to the government in the prosecution of a number of cases of coal land frauds. If the supreme court upholds Judge Lewis, it will be difficult for such prosecutions to be pushed successfully, save in cases where there is clear violation of the laws against conspiracy.

EYE TROUBLES Caused by Improper Food.

Most people would never think of connecting eye disease with the food they eat. But when we remember that every part of the body—every organ—is nourished by the blood and the blood is made of the food we eat, it seems reasonable to trace even eye troubles to food.

A N. Y. man had an interesting experience at one of the great hospitals in that city that may benefit persons who have chronic eye trouble. He writes:

"Four years ago I was stricken with an eye trouble. After being unsuccessfully treated by several physicians and oculists, I went to a noted New York hospital.

"On examination they pronounced my case iritis (inflammation of the iris) caused by poor blood on account of improper assimilation of food.

"They had to operate on my right eye, keeping me in a dark room and on a strict diet for several weeks. When leaving, the doctor cautioned me in regard to giving the other eye, saying that I must be temperate as to my diet and use neither tea nor coffee.

"I told him it would be almost impossible for me to get and live on what they had given me at the hospital. He replied: 'It is not necessary. As an official here I cannot recommend any private brand of food or drink. As a friend I advise you to try Grape-Nuts, discard all fatty, heating foods as much as possible, especially in the morning.'

"This advice I have followed, excepting a few times when I have grown careless, but danger signals always come, such as specks and blots before my eyes and some inflammation. You may be certain I go back to what my doctor advised—Grape-Nuts." "There's a Reason."

NEW AILMENT BANE TO MAN AND BEAST

"FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE" A GROWING SCOURGE

GOVERNMENT TO CHECK IT

Of Livestock Origin But Humans Contract It Through Milk of Diseased Cows

Washington Bureau of The La Crosse Tribune. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 28. (By J. C. Welliver.)

The dangerous nature of the foot and mouth disease, which is just now threatening grave ravages in Pennsylvania and other states and which may spread over a wide area if not controlled, is set forth in a bulletin that has just been issued by Dr. D. E. Salmon and Dr. Theobald Smith of the department of agriculture. This bulletin makes it clear why Secretary Wilson and his aides are leaving no stone unturned to crush out the contagion at the outset.

The severe ravages of the disease are seen in the number and variety of species attacked. Not confined to livestock, man himself is not immune and the frequency of his infection by coming in contact with the diseased animals themselves is established by numerous observations. Children suffer as a result of drinking the unboiled milk from infected cattle.

While the disease is regarded as essentially a cattle disease, hogs would seem to be as easy a prey. Almost in the same grade of receptivity come sheep and goats. Next in order of liability come the buffalo, American bison, camel, deer, chamois, llama, giraffe and antelope. Horses, dogs, cats, and even poultry have been victims of the infection, the last three classes being particularly dangerous as carriers of contagion.

Characteristic of the disease is a highly contagious fever, with eruptions of blisters in the mouth and about the feet and between the toes. In cases where human beings are attacked, the symptoms resemble those observed in animals but are seldom fatal.

The disease prevails in European countries and causes great losses. Although the mortality is quite low, serious losses result from the diminution of the milk, interference with dairy business and from the loss of flesh in the animals attacked. In the suppression of the disease in this country, the animals are promptly killed and this, of course, entails heavy cost on the government or the states that may undertake the work.

According to statistics of the German government, 431,235 head of cattle, 230,368 sheep and goats and 153,808 swine were affected with the disease in that country in 1890. The infection, quite insignificant in 1886, had been gradually spreading until it reached in 1890 the enormous figures given. In the same year, it prevailed in France, Italy, Austria and several other European countries.

Losses from this disease in England in 1883 were estimated at $5,000,000. An English practitioner of wide experience says that it is none too high to place the loss upon each animal that becomes infected, but that ultimately recovers, at $20, when milk cows or feeding cattle that are nearly ready for market are under consideration. On store cattle and calves the loss is proportionately less. Estimating the losses upon the surviving animals from this basis and adding the value of those that die and it will be seen that an outbreak of this disease may quickly result in direct losses of many millions of dollars. In addition to this, a considerable spread of the contagion in this country would entail the entire loss of our export trade in live animals, interruptions of domestic commerce and quarantines, which would surpass the loss caused by the ravages of the disease.

Unlike most other infectious diseases, foot and mouth disease may attack the same animals repeatedly. The immunity conferred is thus of but limited duration and hence inoculation is recommended. The origin of the disease is not known and has given rise to much speculation. It is known to be due to a specific virus, which is easily communicated.

BY ALICE WHEELER.

The festivities did not end with Thanksgiving, but from the present outlook are liable to continue for some time. The week was full of delightful affairs, luncheons, teas, dancing parties, card parties and family dinners and reunions. Tuesday Mrs. John M. Holley gave two pleasant companies, a luncheon and a tea, to introduce Mrs. Horace Holley. Mrs. Levi Withee entertained the Twentieth Century club upon the same day. Wednesday Mrs. John Beyer entertained at a handsome luncheon in honor of Miss O'Neill of Rock Island. Wednesday evening was the annual Plow company dance at the Hirschheimer plant. Thursday occurred the usual Thanksgiving dinners and a number of dances by local clubs were held in the evening. Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hirschheimer entertained at a private dancing party at the same place. This afternoon Mrs. George B. Rose and Miss Rose entertain at a tea. The next week promises to be as well filled as this one has been with companies of all description.

COMING EVENTS.

Mrs. George B. Rose and Miss Rose will entertain at teas Monday and Wednesday afternoon.

Tuesday Mrs. A. C. Jorris and Mrs. E. C. Josten will entertain at a large reception at the home of Mrs. Josten on South Eleventh street.

Wednesday and Friday Mrs. M. F. Egbert will give teas.

Thursday Mrs. John Parks and Mrs. B. C. Smith will entertain at a tea at the home of Mrs. Smith on North Eighth street.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Smith have sent out invitations for a dancing party to take place Dec. 8 at Masonic temple.

Mrs. S. B. Oatman will entertain the Tuesday Afternoon Five Hundred club.

Mrs. E. E. Fraser will entertain the Wednesday Five Hundred club.

The La Crosse Women's club will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. A. J. Eberhart, 1127 Caledonia street. Mrs. G. M. Olson will be the leader.

Mrs. Geo. W. Ray will entertain the Mission Study class of the Congregational church Monday afternoon.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The monthly board meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Monday and Elizabeth Clark, the national chairman, spoke. Supper was served and chrysanthemums, carnations and place cards were used. The young ladies were given an opportunity to meet the secretary after the address. Thursday the association observed Thanksgiving. A long table was decorated with festoons of white crepe paper and a centerpiece of fruit. Tiny baskets of fruit were at each place. The girls were dressed as pilgrims, in kerchiefs, caps and aprons. The evening was spent about the fireplace with song and story.

The girls' department meets Saturday at 2 p. m.

Dr. Sarah A. Nimocks will have charge of the Vesper service at 4 p. m. Sunday. Her subject will be "Prayer and Praise."

The bible, sewing and gymnasium classes will meet Monday evening.

Charcoal Purifies Any Breath

And in Its Purest Form Has Long Been Known As the Greatest Gas Absorber.

Pure willow charcoal will oxidize almost any odor and render it sweet and pure. A painful in a foul cellar will absorb deadly fumes, for charcoal absorbs one hundred times its volume in gas.

The ancients knew the value of charcoal and administered it in cases of illness, especially pertaining to the stomach. In England today charcoal poultices are used for ulcers, boils, etc., while some physicians in Europe claim to cure many skin diseases by covering the afflicted skin with charcoal powder.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges go in to the mouth and transfer foul odors at once into oxygen, absorb noxious gases and acids and when swallowed mix with the digestive juices and stop gas making, fermentation and decay.

By their gentle qualities they control beneficial bowel action and stop diarrhoea and constipation.

Bad breath simply cannot exist when charcoal is used. There are no ifs or ands about this statement. Don't take our word for it, but look into the matter yourself. Ask your druggist or physician, or better still, look up charcoal in your encyclopedia. The beauty of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges is that the highest pharmaceutical expert knowledge obtainable has been used to prepare a lozenge that will give to man the best form of charcoal for use.

Pure willow and honey is the result. Two or three after meals and at bedtime sweeten the breath, stop decay of teeth, aid the digestive apparatus and promote perfect bowel action. They enrich the supply of oxygen to the system and thereby revivify the blood and nerves.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are sold everywhere in vast quantities, thus they must have merit. Every druggist carries them, price, twenty-five cents per box, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 200 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Rowena circle will hold the next regular meeting at Coren hall next Tuesday afternoon, December 1st. The social feature will be cards and prizes and refreshments will be offered.

DELIGHTFUL DANCING PARTY

One of the large and enjoyable events of the week was the dance given last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hirschheimer at the Plow company's works. There were nearly two hundred present. The large and spacious dancing room was attractively decorated with banners of various kinds. At 11 o'clock supper was served upon the third floor. The party broke up at 2 o'clock, having spent an enjoyable evening. Among the guests from out of the city was Dr. West of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Case of Madison, Miss O'Neill of Rock Island, and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Davis of Minneapolis.

MORE THANKSGIVING DINNERS

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Looney's guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fraser, Miss Effie Fraser, and Miss Joiner of Chicago.

Mrs. James McCord entertained Judge and Mrs. Brindley and Ben and Jack Brindley.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Copeland will leave the first of the week for the Hot Springs, N. . . where they will spend three weeks. From there they will go to Watertown, Fla., and spend the holidays. They will also visit Jamaica, Nassau, Panama and Honolulu. They also expect to go to Japan and China before their return.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hixon and family leave next week for California, where they will spend the winter. Mrs. G. C. Hixon, who is at Martinsville, Ind., will join them at Chicago and go with them to California.

Mrs. Jane Baldwin of Glendale is the guest of her son, Mr. Cameron Baldwin.

Miss Margery Savage, who is spending the winter at Conrad, Mont., has taken up what is called a "desert claim" of three hundred and twenty acres. She wrote that she recently attended a dance there at which there were ten La Crosse people present. Among the number were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Withee, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Withee and Augustus Tourtellotte.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones of Minneapolis are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tarbox.

Prof. and Mrs. Lauren Batchelder of St. Paul and Miss Barbara Brown spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. M. G. Brown. They will remain here until after Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Smith spent Thanksgiving in Minneapolis.

Miss Sarah Evans of Watertown, Wis., is visiting her sister, Mrs. D. G. Whyte.

Dr. West of Chicago is the guest of his sister, Mrs. H. J. Hershheimer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Case of Madison were guests at the Hirschheimer party last evening.

Mrs. B. E. Edwards, Mrs. A. R. Osborne and Miss Bessie Osborne will leave in a few days for Winter Park,

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

W.D. Pierce

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine or known composition, not even though the dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

THOUSANDS FREED BY LIFTING OF FOG

PASSENGERS HELD THREE DAYS
IN NEW YORK BAY

CUSTOM HOUSE IS SWAMPED

Appraiser's Office and Postoffice Also Busy—Record Business
Yesterday

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Yesterday proved to be one of the busiest days this port has ever experienced, the direct result of a three-day record-breaking fog and holiday combined. Abnormal business was transacted at the customs house, appraiser's office, by the postoffice department and express companies. Figures will be compiled tomorrow. Such advance information as could be secured last night showed that the average had been greatly exceeded.

Over 6,600 in-bound passengers from foreign ports and the West Indies, who were fog bound for days, reached the shore within the past 24 hours. Over 11,000 already reported were delayed in leaving this port during the three days ended Thanksgiving night.

Thousands of Tons of Freight
Thousands of tons of freight were dumped on the docks by these arriving vessels. Extra inspectors were set to work by the customs house and appraiser's office to hasten the distribution of this tremendous overflow tonnage. Thirty-seven big liners and coastwise traders unloaded at the various piers until the great warehouses were crammed with freight and supplies.

Upon the sixteen out-going ships, nearly all of which were held for hours at their docks, or at anchor down the bay, there were delayed 5,587 bags containing an aggregate of 1,021,000 pieces of mail. There were 753,000 letters; 219,000 pieces of printed matter; 47,000 registered packages, and 2,000 packages for the parcels post.

Big Liners That Were Delayed
The thousands of weary passengers that were brought to shore Thursday night and today after being held up in the fog, and too late for their home Thanksgiving dinners, came up the river on the following ships:
Zeeland, from Antwerp, 900 passengers; Adriatic, from Southampton, 1,500 passengers; Princess Irene, from Naples, 700 passengers; Orontoc, from Colon, 400 passengers; C. F. Tietgen, from Christiania, 500 passengers; Grosser Kurfuerst, from Bremen, 800 passengers; San Giovanni, from Mediterranean ports, 700 passengers; Alliancia from Colon 70 passengers; Tjoma, from Trieste, 250 passengers; Parima, from Naples, 300 passengers; Altai, from West Indies, 15 passengers; Pawnee, from ports in the Antilles, 100 passengers; Merida, from Havana, 500 passengers.

HEXAMETHYLENETETRAMINE
The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities, and avoid a serious malady. O. T. Erhart.

TREMPEALEAU HAS MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR

DRUNKEN TRAMP WITH WELL
DRESSED CHILDREN

GRUFFLY REFUSED TO TALK

Residents of the Village Were Unable to Find Further Trace and Now Fear Kidnaping

An incident which caused considerable excitement and which has about it an air of mystery occurred at Trempealeau last Tuesday night, and blew over as suddenly as it appeared. Although the suspicions of those who know the details of the occurrence may be unfounded, there still is a mystery connected with the happening which makes the case interesting.

It seems that two well known people of Trempealeau, whose names are withheld, while passing through a park on the way home from some social function, heard the cry of a child. Upon investigation they found two small children, both under seven years of age, sitting upon the step of the pavilion which is located near the center of the park. They were unable to find out from the children as to where they lived or how they happened to be there. Upon further investigation, a man was found in a drunken stupor about fifteen feet from the place where the children were found. Both of the little ones were well dressed and seemed to be the children of well-to-do people. The man was poorly clad and seemed to be nothing more than the usual run of hoboes who are frequently seen along the railroad tracks. Upon being aroused from his stupor and asked about the children he answered to the effect that it was nobody's business who they belonged to and that he was able to care for them himself.

Neither the man nor the children have ever been seen around Trempealeau nor were they seen after the occurrence of Tuesday evening. It was thought probably that the children had been kidnapped but as no kidnapping had been heard of, these suspicions were not affirmed.

WANTED—Every young man should find out if there is work in the Navy he enjoys doing. If he is industrious and efficient, promotion will follow with increased pay. Navy life is interesting. The vessels of the fleet furnish a great variety of employment. The incentive to get ahead, to become smart, quick and practical, is attracting thousands of young men to the service. The opportunities to master a trade appeals to all ambitious young men. The chance to see something of the world and at the same time to save money, does not come to the average young man in civil life. When a man is up to the Navy standard of efficiency he can hold his own in his line outside the Navy. The Navy needs mechanics as well as seamen; electricians, machinists, firemen, carpenters, stenographers, bookkeepers, good cooks, bakers, waiters, musicians, and men for the Hospital Corps. The government will train you at its own expense in one of its technical classes. The work is interesting to prepare you in a short time for transfer to sea duty. The quickest way to find out about pay, chances to save, and the requirements for enlistment, is to go to the Navy Recruiting Station at Post Office Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. If living at a distance, write the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

Harriet (Lane) Johnson, Niece of President Buchanan and Mistress of the White House From 1857-1861

Taylor's death in the first year of his administration, opened the White house to Fillmore whose delicate wife kept to her music and books and flowers, letting a brilliant daughter do the honors. To Mrs. Fillmore's love of reading was due the library appropriation granted by congress. Pierce, too, brought a delicate, retiring wife; then for our social saving. Buchanan's niece, the splendid young Harriet Lane, came to preside for her bachelor uncle. She was very much the modern girl; only her generation was not educated up to her ideas, and the physical exuberance that would have made her a tennis expert and golf champion today subjected her to many a mild snub from her conservative guardian. Buchanan was fond of teasing her with the tale of how she challenged a young man to a race, and beat him hopelessly—a most unfeminine proceeding. Secretly, he was immensely proud of her, but the times did not indorse such vigor. Harriet Lane's position in the White house was more onerous, perhaps, than that of any one since Martha Washington, for Buchanan had many personal visitors in addition to his official ones. At the English court, while her uncle was ambassador in London, Miss Lane had added experience to her equipment and was quite equal to anything her new position might offer—even to the entertaining of the prince of Wales, when he was in Washington. The young prince would have liked a dance, but the flat of Mrs. Polk still hung heavy over the White house and Buchanan was unwilling to break through it. One of the amusements provided for him was a visit to the tomb of Washington, where he did reverence most suitably, like the well bred young prince he was. Miss Lane, with sympathetic understanding of his youth, took him to visit a girls' boarding school and this was a thorough success.

How Is Your Digestion.

Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 228 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today." This great tonic and alternative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c at O. T. Erhart's drug store.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—There was an irregularity about the market movements in the first hour. Brokers representing important market interests were committed to the bull side and advised purchase of stocks. Close Consolidated Gas was freely supplied in the last hour and dropped four points from the high. General Electric lost a large part of its early gain. Fractional changes took place in other stocks. Government bonds unchanged, other bonds steady.

MILLER TO HEAD BASKETBALL TEAM

Now that the football season is over basketball will be started at high school immediately. Class teams will be organized among the boys as well as the girls students of the school. Class games will be arranged between the teams representing the various classes and the winner of the majority of the contests will be awarded the class championship.

A squad to represent the whole school will be selected from the most promising members of the class organizations. There is an abundance of basketball material in the school and a team worthy of representing La Crosse will easily be picked. Alfred Miller, who coached the boys last year will undoubtedly be chosen to fill that position again this season.

THANKSGIVING AT TRINITY LUTHERAN

Many out of town friends of the Trinity Lutheran church attended the Thanksgiving services. The regular Thanksgiving services were held in the forenoon. In the evening the ladies of the church served supper to all present. Beginning at 7:30 p. m. a program was given consisting of devotion by the local pastor, song by the audience and church choir, and speaking by Rev. R. Anderson, Mr. S. Gunderson, Ojueberg, I. G. Iverson of Houston and Mr. Solberg, piano solos by Miss Ruud, and vocal solos by several. The evening was very much enjoyed.

SAW SWEETHEART MURDER AN OLD MAN

BELLELEVILLE, Ill., Nov. 28.—After risking his own fair name to clear her employer and sweetheart from the accusation of murdering Peter Waeltz, Nellie Morton, 17, has made a confession involvng both her admirer and herself. She declared Sydney Baker, a photographer, drugged Waeltz in his studio while she watched the operation. After Waeltz became unconscious she left Baker and said she tried to carry Waeltz down stairs, but fell, and lay the old man in a "pretty bad way." He was found dead on the stairs and Baker has been missing since the murder.

CUBAN FEUDIST SHOT

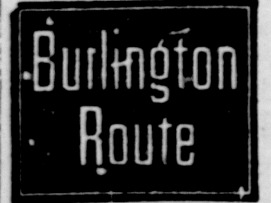

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—Jose Tabada and Manuel Lopez, members of Cuban families long involved in a feud, were fatally shot today at Bayview, a suburb of San Francisco, in an affray that followed the abduction of Flores Tabada. Lopez was leading a band of eight men when it is alleged, he tried to dynamite the Tabada home. The feud was discovered and a fusillade of shots was exchanged. Two men beside the leaders were wounded.

OHIO MINERS TO WITHDRAW

CINNATI, Nov. 28.—A. W. Farley, national organizer of the mine workers' union, declares it a probability that the Ohio miners who are members of the national union will withdraw from the organization in sympathy with the miners of the Pittsburgh district. He says the Pittsburgh miners have representatives in the Ohio and West Virginia fields fomenting discontent and that many followers have been secured.

BABY BOY HAD ITCHING HUMOR

Which Broke Out in Different Places
—Nothing Would Help Him—
Mother Almost in Despair—Skin Quickly Healed Without a Scar and Trouble Has Never Returned

SINCE USING CUTICURA MOTHER GIVES IT PRAISE

"Several months ago, my little boy, now two and a half years old, began to break out with itching sores. I began to doctor him, and as soon as I got them healed up in one place they would break out in another. I was almost in despair. I could not get anything that would help him. One evening I read a testimonial from a lady who had cured her little boy with Cuticura. I began to use the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and after using them three times, the sores commenced to heal. He is now well, and not a scar is left on his body. They have never returned nor left him with bad blood, as one would think. Cuticura Remedies are the best I have ever tried, and they are surely great. I shall always have them in the house handy, and shall highly recommend them to any one who is suffering likewise. I cannot give them too much praise. Mrs. William Geeding, 102 Washington St., Attica, Ind., July 22, 1907."

ITCHING TORMENTS

From little patches of eczema, tetter, milk crust, psoriasis, etc., on the skin, scalp, or hands of infants, children, or adults are instantly relieved and speedily cured, in the majority of cases, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, assisted, when necessary, by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent. Cuticura Remedies are guaranteed absolutely pure.

Cuticura Soap (25c) to Cleanse the Skin. Cuticura Ointment (50c) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c) for the form of Chronic Eczema, 25c. Per box of 60 to Purify the Blood, Sold throughout the world. Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass.

OLD CLAIM IS PAID BY STATE

WASHBURN, Wis., Nov. 28.—The claim of the city of Washburn against the state for aid for the high school in accordance with one of the statutes was this week granted and the secretary of the school board has been notified that $7,995.68 would be forwarded to the city treasurer. The high school was organized as a free township high school and was therefore entitled to aid as such, but the school board had failed to file a report it has always been classed as a district school and all the aid that has been received was what was appropriated by the state to such schools. The school board until some time ago was ignorant of the fact that they were entitled to more. The claim covered a period of twenty-two years.

CYCLONE VICTIMS MAY LOSE ALL

POLICIES MAY NOT COVER
WIND STORMS

RESUME NORMAL CONDITION

Work of Clearing Away Wreckage
Continues—Another Storm
Victim Dies

STEVENS POINT, Wis., Nov. 28.—Stevens Point has recovered from the scare which Wednesday night's cyclone occasioned, and more than 100 men have been put to work clearing away the debris, while scores of others are engaged in re-roofing houses and making these again habitable. Quarters have been found for those who have been deprived of their homes by the ravages of the wind storm. Light service has been resumed by stretching auxiliary cables and the crippled telegraph and telephone service has been restored to tolerable working conditions.

The question of insurance is troubling the heavier losers, as it is feared that policies carried do not contain a clause giving protection against tornadoes and wind storms. Attorneys are making an investigation into this situation, opinion being divided.

A second death due to the storm occurred when Elisha Hook died at the local hospital from injuries he had suffered. He was a farmer brought here from Junction City and had been struck by some falling beams. Mrs. Elmer Thompson was severely injured when her home near Meehan station was destroyed.

L. W. WOOD MAY OPPOSE C. P. CARY

ASKED TO BE CANDIDATE FOR STATE SUPERINTENDENT

MANY WANT THE CHANGE

Would Take the Management Out of the Hands of Normal School Regents

LANCASTER, Wis., Nov. 28.—Resolutions were adopted at the convention of county school board members of Grant county urging Rural School Inspector L. W. Wood to become a candidate for state school superintendent. It is understood that C. P. Cary, present incumbent of the office, will be a candidate for re-election.

Mr. Wood, it is believed, will become a candidate, as a large number of county superintendents are urging him to come out.

Mr. Wood has advanced ideas on how school institutes should be managed. He advocates that their management be taken from the board of normal regents and placed in the hands of a committee composed of the state superintendent, a member of the board of normal school regents, and one of the county superintendents of the state. This matter is being taken up by county school board conventions.

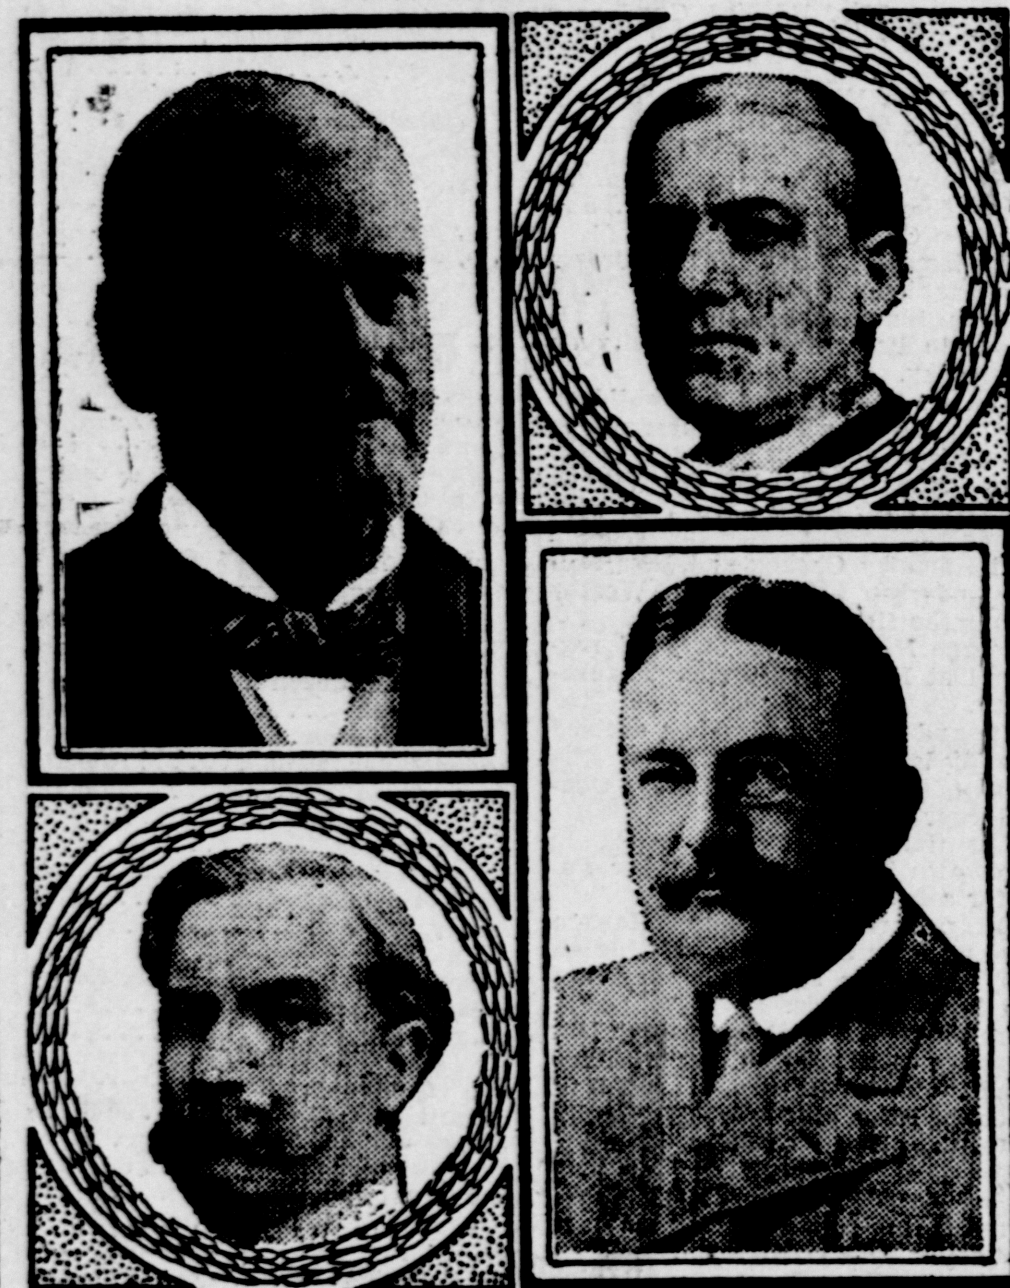

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF

ASHLAND.—The county board has decided to pay the sheriff a salary of $100 a month, out of which he is also to pay his deputy. In addition he will receive certain fees. Prisoners in the jail will be boarded at cost.

THE SENATORIAL FIGHT IN MICHIGAN

(By Norman.)
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 23.—Although the election of a United States senator from Michigan to succeed Julius Caesar Burrows does not take place until 1910, political wires are already being pulled by at least four men from the eastern side of the state. When William Alden Smith succeeded the late Russell A. Alger in the senate the hardest fight was a geographical one. Burrows is from the western section of the state and so is Smith, and the eastern half strongly objected to this sectional advantage if Smith should win, as he did. Now the same fight will be on against Mr. Burrows and the east; especially Detroit, feels that it should be recognized by a representative from its district. Wayne county is a strong factor in Michigan politics always and although very little is being said in and around Detroit it is practically assured that Detroit will have one representative in the race and this is more likely than not to be the present secretary of the navy, Truman H. Newberry.

Mr. Newberry persistently declares he is in favor of Smith and Burrows, as long as they want the place, still it is known when he was here recently to cast his vote that he had several political conferences and it is thought he is laying his wires for 1910. Mr. Newberry himself is authority for the statement that he does not expect a re-appointment under the Taft administration and expects to return to Detroit to live. The honor in being chosen secretary of the navy under the Roosevelt administration, even if only for a few months, would give him considerable prestige in state politics, should he desire to make the run for the senate.

Julius Caesar Burrows will undoubtedly be out for the nomination to succeed himself and he has a host of warm friends who would like to see him in the senate as long as he lives. But it is very doubtful if the eastern section of the state will back him in his run.

Gov. Fred M. Warner, who has just been re-elected to a third term, has a powerful machine and a wide acquaintance and acknowledged senatorial aspirations. His machine was not as strong during the recent campaign as he had hoped it would prove, and his meager majority of 7,500 does not augur well for his chances in a senatorial contest.

FOND DU LAC.—William Morgan, a peddler who disappeared seven years ago, has been declared legally dead and his estate ordered distributed among his relatives.

GREEN BAY.—Miss Alma Samuelson, buyer in the cloak department store, was assaulted, carried into an alley and her handbag containing $50 torn from her arm by a highwayman.

JANESVILLE.—In a heavy wind storm the railroad switch tower at Five Points crossing was blown over and John Cronin severely burned by the overturning of the stove. Fire which started was soon extinguished.

JANESVILLE.—The Janesville Rifles, Company A, has been organized with Jerry Brosnan as president and William Keating as secretary.

MADISON.—Because annual conventions of other agricultural and livestock associations are held early in February, and also because long course agriculture students are then busy with the semester examinations, the Wisconsin Horticultural society will hold its convention in Madison on Jan. 12 to 14. For the last 25 years the meeting has been held in February.

SUPERIOR.—To test the bill-board law giving the city power to order the removal of billboards close to the sidewalks, Thomas Simons, an officer of the local posting company, has been arrested.

FINDS DIAMONDS IN A BIG GOOSE

BELOIT, Wis., Nov. 28.—"This is the goose that laid the golden egg," said Mrs. Duard Cornelius, jokingly, to her little daughter, as she was preparing a goose for the Thanksgiving dinner.

"Mamma, let me take the gizzard to hunt for diamonds," pleaded the little girl.

She dissected it and to the astonishment of both, found two diamonds worth about $12 each and a piece of gold that had been a part of the setting.

Mr. Cornelius is exhibiting the stones and the gold in his store.

WIND BLOWS GIRL THROUGH A WINDOW

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Nov. 28.—An exploding hot water heater wrecked the kitchen of the residence of John Cartmill, a Wisconsin Central official, and hurled the 10 year old daughter of Mr. Cartmill through a window. A steel range was twisted and bent, while the plastering about the walls of the kitchen was stripped from the lathing. A bird cage containing a canary was blown out of a window, and when picked up was bent and twisted, but the bird still lived.
